Full analysis

Overview

whereismytrain.in is an informational announcement site for the “Where is my Train?” app, presenting train search, delay information, and train-tracking features while explaining that Sigmoid Labs, the team behind the app, is joining Google; its apparent purpose is to communicate the app’s mission and acquisition rather than sell financial products or request sensitive information.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No contradictions were observed. The homepage presents a coherent product announcement, contains no login or sensitive-data form, and makes no apparent phishing, cryptocurrency, investment, or impersonation appeal. The stated relationship between Sigmoid Labs and Google is an on-page claim rather than independently verified proof of operator identity, but it is consistent with the site’s informational purpose. External reputation checks found no malicious or suspicious detections, supporting a low scam and impersonation risk assessment.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage describes “Where is my Train?” as an app for train search, delay information, and train tracking, with no sensitive form present.
- Domain registration evidence: registered 2014-11-27 (~11.71 years old).
- Web-archive evidence: 217 snapshots spanning 2015-09-01 to 2026-02-07 across 12 years, with a maximum observed gap of 1 year.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The available material supports an established, apparently legitimate informational website, but does not independently verify the real-world operator identity. The page attributes the app to Sigmoid Labs and states that the team is joining Google; this should be treated as a site-published corporate claim, not as conclusive evidence of legal ownership. No licensing or registration disclosure is presented, although the site does not appear to offer a regulated financial service, so this is a transparency point rather than evidence of a scam. The registration record names MarkMonitor Inc. as registrar and associates the organization field with Google LLC, which is supportive context but does not by itself establish operational control.

EVIDENCE

- Registration telemetry: registrar MarkMonitor Inc.; organization Google LLC; creation date 2014-11-27T20:49:11Z.
- Hosting telemetry: served from AS396982 (GOOGLE-CLOUD-PLATFORM - Google LLC, US).
- Transport telemetry: TLS certificate issued by WR4, validation level DV, valid to 2026-10-22T07:03:42+00:00.

What to Verify Next

Before any credential or payment interaction associated with related services, independently confirm the operator and the stated corporate relationship through an official Google or Sigmoid Labs channel rather than relying solely on the announcement page. Confirm that the applicable Terms of Use and any service-specific privacy, support, or consumer-protection arrangements correspond to the intended interaction. If the service is later used in a jurisdiction or context involving regulated activity, confirm the relevant authorization directly with the applicable registry.

EVIDENCE

- The homepage includes a “Terms of Use” reference but provides limited additional legal or service-governance detail in the captured content.
- The page is classified as an informational product announcement, with no direct transaction or sensitive-data workflow observed.
- The published corporate relationship is presented within the announcement page and therefore warrants independent confirmation for identity-assurance purposes.

Summary Verdict

Available evidence is consistent with an established, apparently legitimate website and supports a high-trust, low-risk posture. The operator’s real-world identity remains unverified, so the positive assessment should not be interpreted as proof of legal ownership or corporate control.

Infrastructure Integrity

The site resolves to one likely origin address, with no CDN detected and no edge-IP layer identified. Its Google Cloud Platform hosting provides a conventional enterprise infrastructure context and is a mitigating technical signal, but infrastructure alone does not establish legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Ordinary browsing is proportionate to the assessed posture; before credentials or payment details are supplied, independent operator, terms, and payment-protection checks should be completed.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about whereismytrain.in at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
