Full analysis

Overview

The website is an established Shopify retailer offering extra-wide footwear for men and women, with revenue generated through conventional online sales of physical goods.

Scam/Impersonation Risk

No identity contradictions, brand impersonation, phishing behavior, or other fraud indicators were observed. The long-established domain, clean external threat reputation, conventional retail proposition, and absence of malicious interaction mechanics provide mutually reinforcing evidence that the storefront is legitimate rather than an imitation or deceptive operation.

- Domain-registration records show that the storefront's domain was registered in 1999 and is approximately 27 years old, with registration extending to 2034.
- The homepage presents a coherent footwear catalogue and ordinary physical-goods retail model, with no cryptocurrency, investment, or financial-manipulation content.
- Homepage analysis found no hidden or sensitive forms, credential forwarding, cloaking, clipboard interference, wallet interaction, or suspicious scripts.
- External reputation checks recorded 0 malicious and 0 suspicious detections, no phishing finding, and no confirmed threat-list match.

Regulatory Verification Notes

The business operates as a footwear retailer rather than a regulated financial service, so financial licensing is not applicable to the observed activity. The material compliance consideration is privacy: the homepage's consent interface describes analytics, personalised advertising, precise geolocation, device scanning, and profiling involving 1,017 partners, with preferences potentially retained for up to 730 days. Granular controls—including customisation, rejection, and later withdrawal—are presented, although the breadth of disclosed processing warrants careful consent management.

- The homepage identifies 1,017 advertising and technology partners and describes processing for personalisation, measurement, audience research, and service development.
- The homepage consent interface offers "Reject All," category-level customisation, vendor-level choices, and a mechanism to withdraw consent.
- The site's transport encryption uses a YE1-issued domain-validated TLS certificate, valid to 2026-08-31.

- The hosting artifact is served from AS13335, operated by Cloudflare, Inc.; the domain registrar is 123-Reg Limited.

What to Verify Next

Routine consumer due diligence should focus on confirming the applicable returns, delivery, warranty, payment, and privacy terms before purchase. Consent selections should be reviewed according to the purchaser’s privacy requirements, and official customer-service channels should be confirmed through the storefront before any order-related correspondence.

- The captured homepage establishes an online retail transaction model but does not provide the text of separate returns, delivery, warranty, or payment-policy pages for assessment.
- The captured privacy interface states that consent choices apply to this website and can subsequently be changed or withdrawn.
- The homepage technology profile includes multiple analytics and marketing services, supporting a review of optional tracking preferences.

Summary Verdict

The website has a high-trust, established legitimacy profile, supported by convergent identity, reputation, content, and behavioral evidence with no observed contradictions. It is appropriate for normal interaction, including account login, account activity, and standard retail transactions.

Infrastructure Integrity

The website is protected by Cloudflare CDN/WAF infrastructure, and the observed address was an edge server rather than a confirmed origin host. This reduces direct origin exposure and provides a meaningful security mitigation, while remaining supporting infrastructure rather than independent proof of business legitimacy.

Closing Assessment

Prospective customers may use the storefront normally, applying standard online-shopping precautions and selecting privacy preferences appropriate to their requirements.

About this assessment

A trust score summarises the evidence TrustSniffer could collect about widefitshoes.co.uk at assessment time. It is a starting point for your own judgement, not a guarantee: a high score means the signals were consistent with a legitimately operated site, a low or critical score means several risk patterns were present.

TrustSniffer assesses a website from the evidence it can collect at a point in time: domain registration and age, hosting and certificate, the content the site served, and third-party reputation feeds. A score is a summary of that evidence, not a guarantee and not a legal finding. There is no human rating and no user review in it. A site can change after it is assessed.
